

TUESDAY AFTERNOON, APRIL 22.

THE PATRIOT KOSUTH.

The annexed is a telegraphic despatch from Washington, on Sunday, to the Philadelphia North American:

"Despatches were yesterday received from Mr. McCurdy, U. S. Charge at Vienna, of the date of March 29th, stating that the Austrian Government had refused the application of the Sultan for permission to release Kosuth and the Hungarian patriots, his companions, from confinement. By a compact existing between Austria and Turkey, the latter Power was charged with and accepted the surveillance of these unfortunate exiles, numbering several hundreds; but finding the expense of their maintenance becoming burdensome, she applied to be released from the incumbency. Permission was granted in reference to all except Kosuth and eight or ten others. This decision was communicated before intelligence reached Vienna respecting the recent action of our Government. An urgent appeal will be addressed to Austria on this subject."

We feel well assured that the influence of our Government will be exerted to the utmost in this behalf. The great and noble letter of Mr. Webster to our Minister at Constantinople will, of itself, produce a most salutary effect, and its arguments will be pressed with unabated energy.

When an American press can be found to denounce the patriots of Hungary, and to uphold the cause of bigotted and tyrannical Austria, it is time for every friend of human liberty and human progress to speak, and to ask who it is that thus libels the sentiments of the republicans of our land!

The editor of the New York Courier and Enquirer, awaiting an appointment to a foreign embassy until the adjournment of the Senate, and then receiving it under circumstances alike discreditable to the giver and the recipient, repaired to the court of Vienna, to pass the happy season of a honeymoon, and to remain, as he well knew, only until the voice of the American Senate should recall him, and implicitly rebuke the power from whom his appointment had been importuned or extorted. Returning with the overpaid rewards of his services, the antecedents of his life do not forbid nor render very dubious the conjecture that a new mission was assigned him, to be rewarded with as rich a recompense; and the sequel has shown that in this instance, at least, he will prove faithful to the obligations he has assumed.

That the American people will yield to the influence of his misrepresentations of a people whose sufferings have but too well attested their patriotism and devotion to the cause of liberty, we will not for a moment believe; nor will we doubt that all that can be done by our countrymen and Government in aid of the noble Kosuth and his compatriots will be done with prompt and willing hands.

The following just and truthful remarks are quoted from the Cincinnati Gazette:

"In looking on all the subjects connected with the Hungarian struggle, we are struck with admiration at the number of distinguished men brought forward by that glorious upheaving of an oppressed nation. In that bright galaxy, the name of Kosuth most ever stand pre-eminent. His noble devotion to his country, combined with his unimpeachable integrity and honesty, will to all time surround his fame with a glorious halo, and the names of George Washington and of Louis Kosuth will descend to the latest posterity, revered and honored."

"At the present day, more than ever, now that Hungary is trampled under foot by foreign mercenaries, all ranks, all classes, look on his past career as an earnest for their future independence. In the towns on the landed estates of the nobility, and among the country people, all revere him as the greatest, the most true-hearted of modern patriots, and look on him as the future regenerator of his country."

"One fact in Kosuth's history, that bears the strongest testimony to his integrity, must not be forgotten. The Austrian government never attempted to bribe nor to buy him! Jelachich, the Ban of Croatia, was won by a few soft words addressed to his vanity! Gorgey, the traitor, sold his country to his brethren in arms for lucre; but the character of Kosuth, from the first moment when he was hurried into public life, was stamped with such resolution that the policy of the Austrian cabinet never ventured an attempt to gain him over to their side."

"Such is the man who is about to seek a temporary asylum on our shores. May he receive that welcome from our citizens to which his merits entitle him, and may his next appearance in Europe be as president of the HUNGARIAN REPUBLIC!"

THE ISLAND.

At the Smithsonian Institution, workmen are planting trees, pruning and removing others, cultivating and improving the grounds. This part of the mall will soon be one among the finest of the many pleasant afternoon resorts with which the city abounds. The Institute building is rapidly progressing. The towers will probably be completed this summer. The Island can well boast of its ornament; for as the work goes up the real beauty of the structure is developed, and adds increasing gracefulness to that pleasant section of the metropolis.

PAUPERISM IN NEW YORK.—The monthly report for March of the ten governors of the almshouse has been published, and the Tribune has prepared of it a brief synopsis. During the past month 8,294 poor persons have been supplied with necessary comforts, food, clothing, &c. Of this number 754 were regular pensioners, and 1,994 transient paupers, all of whom are classified as out-door poor, and were provided for at the almshouse department, in the park; 5,546 have been visited at their dwellings, making a total as above of 8,294. During the month, the sum of $35,840.68 has been expended by the department for supplies, which were distributed among the various charitable institutions in our city, under charge of the ten governors. The following table shows the average census of the various charitable institutions for the past month: Almshouse, 1,211; do. hospital, 164; Bellevue hospital, 638; children at nurse, 173; city prisons, 238; colored home, 308; colored orphan asylum, 113; lunatic asylum, 489; nursery, 1,187; nursery hospital, 194; penitentiary, 607; penitentiary hospital, 197; smallpox hospital, 42. Total in doors, 5,546.

This is a bad picture of the condition of an American city, when the demand for labor and the prices of the necessities of life are remembered.

CUBA.

The Baltimore American of this morning contains the following article. We italicize certain lines, which contain affirmations that the movers in the present project must refute before they can be entitled to the sympathy of their countrymen. After that must come in the prudent considerations of the case, which the generality of our writers appear to regard as of the first importance:

REMOVED ATTACK ON CUBA.—The very general tone of the public press in relation to the rumored renewal of aggressions upon Cuba, by adventurers from the United States, is in full accordance with the public feeling of indignation with which the reports of that projected outrage have been received. That such an expedition, for such a lawless purpose, should be fitted out upon our shores, was a matter of mortification when Lopez made his feeble attempt upon Cardenas; a repetition of that abuse of a friendly territory would awaken a still stronger sentiment of indignant disgust.

The mercenary character of this expedition, of which we have vague and flying rumors, is not at all disguised under pretensions of a love of liberty and a desire to extend that boon to the people of Cuba. Such an affectation is ridiculous and deceives no one. How far the population of Cuba are desirous of freedom, how far they are fit for it, does not appear from any efforts they have ever made themselves to obtain it.

In the mean time the vigilance of the Administration will doubtless be exercised in discovering and frustrating the projected outrage upon a friendly and neighboring Power. Happy would it be for these reckless and desperate adventurers if the preventive efforts of the Government should succeed in defeating their mad design before it shall have brought them within the reach of Spanish vengeance. According to all accounts the Island of Cuba was never in a better state of defence than now; nor are there any symptoms of disloyalty on the part of the people at large, whose favor has been much conciliated by the liberal policy of the new Governor General.

WASHINGTON CITY SABBATH SCHOOL UNION. An interesting meeting was held last evening at the Fourth Presbyterian church, Ninth street, on the occasion of the 8th anniversary of this Union. The house was filled to overflowing, and appropriate addresses were delivered by the Rev. W. T. Eva and Rev. J. C. Smith. The vocal exercises of the united schools, under the direction of Mr. James N. Davis, were delightful, and greatly added to the interest of the occasion. From the report of Mr. O. C. Wight, Secretary, the following statistics are derived:

The First Presbyterian Sabbath School has 132 scholars; Second do. 81; F street do. 132; Fourth do. 408; Methodist Protestant, Ninth street, 70; do. Navy Yard, 68; Methodist Episcopal, Union Chapel, 170; Ryland, 218; Fountain, 140; Wesley Chapel, 405; McKendree, 205; Baptist, Tenth street, 50; E street do. 100; St. Paul's, Lutheran, 149; English Hill, 60; Western Station, 66; Greenleaf's Point, 62. Total, male scholars, 1,269; female scholars, 1,413; male teachers, 169; female teachers, 212. Volumes in the libraries, 7,507. Conversations during the year, 48; deaths, 19. The above compose the "Union."

Of all the Protestant scholars in the city, 3,604 are white; number of teachers, 530; colored, 950; teachers, 84. The Roman Catholic Sunday Schools have 1,050 scholars, and 50 teachers. The whole number of Sabbath school scholars in the city is 5,606; teachers, 664. Number of books in the libraries, 11,707.

YESTERDAY was Easter Monday, and a very general holiday. Most of the schools were closed, and the children were treated to the luxuries peculiar to themselves and the occasion. The capitol parks were full of smiling little boys and girls, playing on the smooth grass and enjoying the sun-shine and the flowers of spring. Egg-shells, dyed with every shade of the seven primitive colors, and in varied combinations, were scattered all about, showing how well this time-honored little custom has been preserved. Some of the Easter sports, however, appear to have passed away. We heard of no races, and no chicken fights, and saw no drunkenness in our streets. These are signs of improvement, surely.

THE CAPITOL.—The gardeners are pruning the flowers and trees, cutting the grass, already grown to an inconvenient height, and rolling and smoothing the walks. Within the building, the hammer of the carpenter and the brush of the painter are busy. The Hall of Representatives has been stripped of its carpets, curtains, and screens, which are to be replaced by new ones.

The President has not yet decided upon the plan for the enlargement. There is time enough, however, and our mechanics have no cause for uneasiness. There is work before them.

CIRCUIT COURT.—We learn that the Kosciuszko Will case, which was to have been argued before this court to-day, has been postponed to the first Monday in June.

A VENERABLE COAT.—A friend informs us that he yesterday saw a blue uniform coat which formerly belonged to Gen. Henry Lee, of the Revolution; and which, no doubt, had been worn by that accomplished officer in many a hard-fought battle. It is the property of "Dick Nugent," a slave belonging to Mrs. Julia Terrett, of Fairfax, whose father, Col. Baldwin Dade, more than forty years ago, purchased Dick of Gen. Lee. The coat, until a year ago, was in a fine state of preservation; but uncle Dick, either not thinking the rich facing and trimmings suitable to be worn by one of his advanced age, or anxious to gratify some of his grandchildren, stripped the coat of its epaulettes and facings.

A RARE BIRD.—Mr. Henry A. Barton yesterday presented to the National Institute, as an offering from Mr. David Doyle, of Charles county, Maryland, a very beautiful specimen of the Arctic Hawk or Owl. It measures four and a half feet from tip to tip of the wings, has a snow-white plumage, tipped delicately and beautifully on the head, back, breast, and tail with brown lines and spots, so regularly that one might suppose they were arranged by the hands of the finest painter.

This bird was killed last fall, at Budd's ferry, on the Potomac river, about thirty-five miles below this city, by Mr. Doyle.

FENCES NEEDED.—A plank this morning fell from the roof of a house at which the mechanics are at work, and knocked down a colored man who was on the pavement below. There are many places in this city where the public safety requires barricades. If the owners of such property do not think they have the power to erect them, they should be instructed on the subject.

WASHINGTON CITY BOARD OF HEALTH.—Dr. John M. Roberts and Mr. John E. Bates were yesterday nominated by the Mayor and confirmed by the Board of Aldermen as members of the Board of Health for the 6th Ward, in place of Dr. N. Young, removed from the Ward, and Mr. James Crandell, appointed a Police Magistrate.

THE CENTRE MARKET was very lively this morning. Purchasers and sellers were doing a fine business. Good-sized shad were held at 25 cents per pair. Potatoes $1.25 per bushel. Butter 12½ to 30 cents per lb. Eggs 12½ cents per doz. Cheese 8 to 12½ cents. Meats sold well; the butchers are no doubt satisfied that the season of Lent is passed—and so should be our abstaining friends!

Commodore LOPEZ and Major BUTTERFIELD, of Mexico, arrived in our city this morning, and took apartments at the United States Hotel.

THE NORTH AMERICAN REVIEW, No. CL, for April, has been presented to us by Messrs. Taylor & Maury. This Review should be read by every intelligent American. There is a very satisfactory article in the present number on the History of Rome.

THE WATCH-HOUSE was thinly attended last night. Mr. John Day got drunk, and created a disturbance at or near Jackson Hall. He was taken up, but released by the Mayor at two o'clock, a. m., on condition that he would appear to answer the charge at nine o'clock. He, however, did not come, no doubt because he slept late in the morning after such a spree.

ARTS-UNION AND MORALS.—The communication of "A Churchman" is unavoidably deferred.

SUICIDE.—James Wood, of Savannah, committed suicide on the 17th inst. He was sixty years old, a native of Massachusetts, but had lived thirty years at Savannah. The Items says he was a worthy man, but had of late given indications of insanity.

JENNY LIND.—The success of this great vocalist in the West is truly astonishing. At Cincinnati, the theatre is full of her admirers, the papers are full of her praise, the city is full of an almost delirious admiration for her, and Barnum's pockets are full of money.

The angelic Jenny will soon wing her course eastward, and we shall all be taken with another paroxysm, when she will go off if we do not.

The third Presbyterian church, Eutaw street, Baltimore, (Dr. Musgrave's), is to be taken down, and a new, large, and more beautiful one is to be erected in its place.

JUDGE BULLARD, late a Representative in Congress from Louisiana, died on Sunday last at his home in that State.

A member of the Massachusetts Legislature was arrested the other day for indecent behaviour. Why not arrest the "hull on 'em," if that kind of behaviour is indictable?

REJOICE, OH PITTSBURG!—The American of that city states that JENNY LIND will positively give a Concert there on Friday evening of this week. She is to sing in Wheeling on Thursday.

EUROPEAN ITEMS.

It is said that Governor Barry, of Michigan, will probably call an extra session of the legislature of that State in June. The cause assigned is the failure of a number of important bills at the late session.

Mr. Stephenson, the eminent engineer, it is said, at the request of Abbas Pasha, is about to commence the construction of a railroad between Cairo and Alexandria, and thus bring into close proximity the two principal cities of Egypt.

It is stated that the directors of the South-eastern railway have made arrangements to carry 10,000 passengers per day during the exhibition.

The eccentric, but talented Dr. Crofts, of Coventry, intends, at the opening exhibition, to set the Thames on fire in reality. It appears that he has invented a composition to make water blaze on the application of flame, and will experiment on a portion of the Thames.

A LONG WIRE.—Among the most remarkable productions from Birmingham, at the great exhibition, there will be a piece of iron wire, for the purposes of the electric telegraph, a mile long. This is the greatest length of wire that has ever been drawn.

A telegraphic despatch from Vienna, of the 27th ult., announces the arrival in that city of the Emperor of Austria. He immediately signed the patent constituting Venice a free port.

Zundardan cannon are about to be introduced into the Persian artillery.

The vestry of Cheltenham has voted the sum of £2,000 to promote emigration amongst the poor of the borough. Last year five hundred paupers were sent to Canada and the United States.

PHILADELPHIA, April 21.—The case of Collector Lewis.—There is much excitement here among the dissatisfied in regard to the dismissal of the charges against Collector Lewis and Surveyor Norris. An indignation meeting is in contemplation. The true merits of the case will, probably, not be arrived at to the satisfaction of all parties for some time to come.

The Boston Traveller gives an account of several excellent daguerotypes of the moon, taken recently in Boston, by the aid of the great equatorial telescope, at the Cambridge observatory. The daguerotypes are said to be very perfect, exhibiting with much distinctness the inequalities and striking peculiarities of the moon's surface, and affording one an admirable idea of the appearance of the moon when seen through a powerful telescope.

Rev. Mr. Leashey was mobbed at Chicago on the 16th inst., but was not seriously injured.

ARCHBISHOP ECCLESTON.—At half-past one o'clock this afternoon this gentleman had swooned away, and was thought to be in death; but he revived again, though but feebly. He is surrounded by a number of clergymen. He is calm, composed, and resigned, welcoming the hand of death, which will very soon translate him to a better world.

THE BALL OF THE NATIONAL GREYS last night went off spiritedly. The music was good, the dancing excellent, the company large and very agreeable, and the array of beauty such as even Washington seldom witnesses.

We knew that admirable company would manage things well, but we did not know how well they were approved by the fair, lovely daughters of our city, whose happy smiles and bright eyes will long be remembered with pleasure by every one who beheld them.

The New York Herald of Monday has the following among its telegraphic despatches from this city:

CURIOUS VERDICT OF A NAVAL COURT-MARTIAL.—Washington, April 20, 1851.—The naval court-martial recently assembled here for the trial of Lieutenant Fabius Stanley, for challenging his superior officer, have found a singular verdict, viz: On the first count, "that Stanley falsely stated he had challenged Captain Johnson," guilty. Second count, "Stanley actually challenged Captain Johnson," guilty. The Secretary of the Navy, perceiving the Irishism of this finding, has remanded the case back to the court.

EITHER A HOAX OR A MURDER.—Middleton, Conn., April 18, 1851.—A snatch of an opportunity to inform you of a serious rebellion and murder in the Wesleyan University—an institution which has always been noted for its quietness and the order-loving spirit of its students. The rebellion originated in the Sophomore class; the students had been forbidden attending the court which had been in session here during the past week. The majority of the Sophomore class, in defiance of this rule, attended the court last Tuesday, and were suspended in consequence. Some words upon the subject occurring, to-day, between a student and one of the Professors, the student, who was from the South, drew a pistol upon the Professor and shot him through the heart. Great excitement prevails in the College and among the citizens. The student was arrested this afternoon, and lodged in the county jail.—N. Y. Herald.
